About the Project

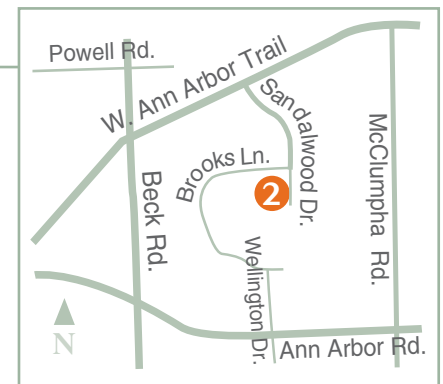

Sharer Design Group's most recent renovation transformed a very basic Plymouth kitchen into a functional and contemporary space, uniquely designed to fit the specific needs of our clients. Eager to part ways with their dated cabinetry, basic granite countertops, and non-functional layout, our clients sought a refreshed space that would meet their needs and design style.

Our signature Sharer Cabinetry cabinet line set the tone for the design, featuring a flat paneled door style painted Bright White. The custom cabinetry line also offered plenty of opportunity to incorporate exciting custom details throughout, such as adding ample storage and plenty of space for gathering. The updated design features a sleek wet bar with a trough sink and an eye-catching oversized island with seating for six. The large cascading Sharer wood countertop on the center island creates a dramatic and unique statement piece.

Professional series appliances were selected by our clients and designed into the space, being mindful of our client's needs and style. Two single ovens were integrated into a unique demi-tall multi-height custom design. Marble-look quartz countertops were used throughout the space further establishing the contemporary design style, as well as offering functionality. The same quartz material was also used for the backsplash, creating a subdued drama to the design. The original hardwood flooring remained, but was refinished for a lighter, refreshed look. Two modern/stylish circular LED pendants are featured above the island, which add the perfect finishing touch to this contemporary space. Our clients are thrilled with their kitchen's transformation, designed to fit their unique style and needs. Designed by Sharer Design Group Senior Designer Bethann McCague.
