211 W. Summit Street, Ann Arbor

Though already well-appointed, the home owners imagined a reinvention of their lower living level with a fresh infusion of character. With vibrant finishes, creative furnishings, and more functional space planning, their inspiration took shape in the form of a welcoming foyer, media room, guest bath, laundry and mudroom.

From the entry and throughout the hallway and living space, engineered wood flooring and eclectic lighting lend cohesive charm and ambiance to warm the living space. Using classic brick style subway tile for the backdrop of the freestanding claw foot tub, this charming bathroom provides relaxing comfort for guests. The flooring, with grey and white pattern tile, is an encaustic tile; which uses colored clays instead of glazes to create the pattern. Down the hall, the laundry room floor has a complimentary tile pattern producing a beautifully balanced space.

Come experience their joyful creation!
