Selecting the Right Remodeler For You

A good first step in your remodeling project is to start with an idea of what you want to do, and make a prioritized list of your needs, wants, and dreams. Collect photos from magazines, books, and websites that show things that you like. It's helpful if you identify what it is that you like about each photo. The more clearly you can describe your project, the more likely you will be able to clearly convey your goals to a remodeling professional.

Think about how you plan to use the remodeled space. Be sure to consider furniture size and placement, traffic patterns through the home, lighting and electrical needs, etc.

Calculate your budget, including construction costs, furnishings, and landscaping (if applicable). Talk to lenders and find out how much you can borrow and at what cost.

Get referrals from BRAG Ann Arbor. Talk with friends, family, neighbors and co-workers who have remodeled their home. Architects, trade contractors, building material suppliers, home inspectors, and lenders are also great sources for referrals.

Interview a few remodelers regarding your project, perhaps asking:

- Does the remodeler carry insurance that protects you from claims arising from property damage or jobsite injuries?
- How long has the company been in business under this name? Longevity suggests financial security.
- Does the remodeler have a track record of successful projects similar to the one you are planning?

OF THE YEAR

- Does the remodeler actively participate in a trade organization such as BRAG Ann Arbor?

This and similar organizations help to keep their members informed about new products, construction techniques, business practices, and industry issues. Participation demonstrates a remodeler's commitment to professionalism and the remodeling industry.

Check references from previous and current customers of the remodeler. Make sure you ask the remodeler for this list. Some of the questions to ask these contacts are:

- Would you hire this company again?
- Did the remodeler maintain a neat jobsite, and clean up regularly? Did the remodeler haul away debris in a timely manner?
- Did the remodeler order materials in a timely manner so that your job could be started and completed on time and within budget?
- Did you find the remodeler easy to work with? Did the remodeler keep you informed as the job progressed?

The relationship between a remodeler and client is a very important one. You need to feel comfortable with the remodeler and confident that this company will do the work according to your plans, budget, and specifications. Make sure you feel that this person listens to you and understands your needs and wants, and can work with you to ensure that the plans for your job accurately reflect your expectations and your budget.

A Unique Insurance Perspective. Yours.

Knowing you're different is what makes us different. That's why we take the time to look at all the issues that can affect you, your family and your belongings. Water damage from the backup of a sewer or drain is a common claim, and it can be especially damaging to a finished basement.

We'll work with you to develop an insurance program unique to your specific needs and make sure you have enough coverage up to policy limits if needed.
