

BEFORE

What do you do when you love your neighborhood and your home but you need something fresh and new- well you call Architectural Resource to work some 'space alchemy'! Our clients were blending families and wanted to create a new, shared "our" home in celebration. They needed more space and wanted to update their existing living areas; remodel the kitchen, entry and bathroom; create a 'parent's sanctuary' Primary Suite including a recreation space; add a home office; embrace Not So Big® design and, oh... by the way, not encroach into their backyard. Tall order? Not for AR! Come see how an inspired whole-house remodel and seamlessly integrated new second story addition not only solved their challenges but thrilled our clients.
