Step inside a home full of personality.

Meadowlark transformed this 1950s ranch into a bold, distinctive home that perfectly reflects its owner. The rich color combinations are a nod to mid-century modern design.

Walls were removed to open the floor plan, creating seamless flow from kitchen to living room—ideal for gatherings. The original three bedrooms became two, giving the home a spacious feel. The kitchen now features expansive countertops, smart storage, and a layout designed for a passionate cook. A larger primary suite includes a walkin closet and bath, while a new powder room welcomes guests.

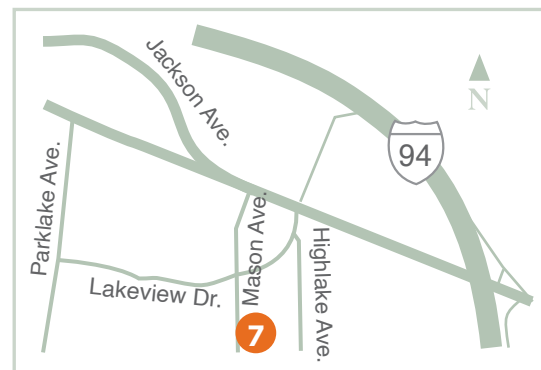

Outside, the home greets you with a new, larger, and inviting front porch. The house also received new mechanical systems, ensuring it's ready for the long haul. See how thoughtful design and a dash of boldness brought new life to this classic ranch.
