

Accessory Dwelling Unit (ADU) and Additional Garage

Jennifer Patselas Photography

2056 Winsted Blvd, Ann Arbor

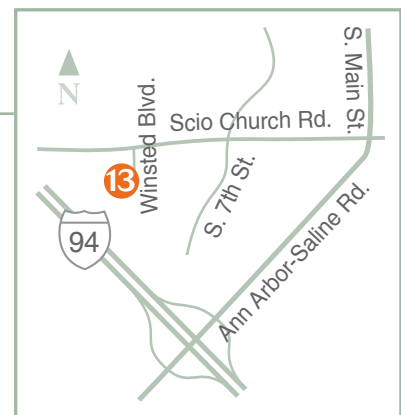

This project expanded a 1967 mid-century modern home, located in Ann Arbor's Lansdowne Subdivision. The project goals were to build a new mother-in-law suite, extend the garage to accommodate space for a car lift, and enlarge the second floor to provide two additional bedrooms and one office.

The mother-in-law suite qualifies as an Accessory Dwelling Unit (ADU) and includes a spacious bedroom with large south-facing windows; a bathroom with a spa-like shower and a stackable washer and dryer; a generous walk-in-closet, and a complete kitchen with a full-height pantry, peninsula, and large north-facing windows. The ADU also includes its own furnace room and boasts a 9-foot ceiling throughout.
