Sorry, home #5 will NOT be open due to HOA restrictions.

This Giraffe Design Build renovation celebrates the 1988 contemporary home originally designed by Architect L. Brink. Located in the Matthaei Farm Community and surrounded by the enchanting Matthaei Botanical Gardens, this home has undergone a thoughtful remodel that merges timeless aesthetic with natural sustainable design.

In dedication to preserving the essence of the original architecture, we maintained the home's original form. With a strong focus on capturing natural light, the design team strategically incorporated new windows and doors, mirroring the home's existing vertical elements. Drawing from our comprehensive sun-study, eleven skylights were integrated, bathing the interior with an abundance of daylight.

The interior spaces have been meticulously crafted using sustainably-sourced oak, concrete, and raw metal. Notably, six interior-exterior columns have been clad with Dekko panels, balancing organic materials and modern design. The kitchen, foyer, and staircase showcase custom metal fabrications, adding a thoughtful layer of originality to this aesthetic.

This home offers an opportunity to encounter the harmony between sophisticated materials and sustainability. A seamless balance of artistry and innovation has gone into creating this beautiful, and functional home. Our team can provide insight, guidance, and inspiration for your own home renovation ideas, including sustainability insights.

Join us as Giraffe Design Build moves towards a greener, more responsible future where creative, eco-friendly solutions coexist with timeless and inspired design. We hope this will be an unforgettable visit that will inspire you to transform your home; one which reflects your values and offers a refined, environmentally-conscious lifestyle.
