

ABOUT THE PROJECT

Nestled just south of the Huron River in the gently rolling woods of Ann Arbor's north side, the Newport Hills neighborhood offers a serene, natural setting. The homeowners were drawn to the privacy provided by their wooded backyard, but their home lacked a true connection to the outdoors. With a new sunroom already underway, they turned to the design and craftsmanship expertise of Lotus to create a seamless transition between the addition and the landscape.

The result is a multi-tiered outdoor living space perfect for both relaxation and entertaining. A composite deck and an elegant flagstone patio and walkway establish a graceful flow from the home into nature. Thoughtfully placed planting beds enhance the surrounding beauty, while strategic landscape lighting extends the space's use into the evening, creating a warm and inviting ambiance.
